

© Creative Horizons Pte Ltd
Primary 3 Lesson
Creative Writing: Plot Development

PUFF & FLUFFY (Faith Ng, P3)

There once lived two furry, adorable rabbits named Fluffy and Puff. Fluffy was a white, furry rabbit who was very energetic. Fluffy's older sister Puff was hazelnut brown with white patches. They both lived happily in the woods.

One day, Fluffy and Puff were walking in the woods when they met a wolf. The wolf was grey and had yellow eyes. It looked awfully scary. The rabbits knew the wolf wanted to eat them. They started to flee but the wolf ran after them. They did not know what to do!

They ran and ran until they got to a dead end. Puff looked up and down for an escape route. While Puff's attention was focused elsewhere, the wolf grabbed Fluffy's tail and spun him round and round and round. Puff tried to grab the wolf's tail then bite it, but to no avail.

Then Puff thought of a plan. She decided to hide in the bushes. When Fluffy saw Puff leaving, he screamed, "No Puff! Don't go! He's going to eat me!" But as Fluffy saw Puff run away, he saw a twinkle in Puff's eye. Fluffy then knew that Puff had a plan. So Fluffy continued shouting, "Puff! Puff! Help!"

The wolf was just about to eat Fluffy when Puff jumped out and pounced on the wolf. She climbed all over the wolf and scratched him wherever she could. The wolf cried in pain when Puff tried to rip off the wolf's tail. After escaping from Puff, the wolf ran home. He wasn't a bit hesitant about abandoning his attack. He had had enough.

Fluffy laughed till his sides ached. Then Fluffy and Puff went home and had carrot cake for tea. They lived happily ever after. And the wolf never came back.